175 Gallon Goal Set For ROTC Blood Drive

Last semester BYU broke the record for blood donations with 620 pints. This showing was consistent with past drives in which BYU has given more blood than any other college in Utah and more than all cities except Salt Lake and Ogden.

Another semi-annual Red Cross blood drive will take place Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the basement of the Health Center between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Sponsoring this drive is the Air Force ROTC and Angel Flight with a goal of 700 pints. Appearances which will allow students to give blood at their own convenience can be made Friday and Monday in the Knight Ely Smith Family Living Center, McEwan Hall, and Eyring Science Center.

Two-Act Oriental Drama ...

Rashomon To Be Staged April 24-27

An Oriental story of an assault and murder as told by its three participants in sharply contrasting accounts will be staged Wednesday through Saturday evenings, at 8:30 p.m. by the Brigham Young University Drama Department.

"RASHOMON" by Gay and Michael Kanin is a drama in two parts adapted from the imaginative and sardonic Japanese stories of Akutagawa. The play comments on the timeless frailties of human nature and mirrors the splendor and horror of medieval Japan. The action of the drama is set primarily in the court of the Emperor, but also at "Rashomon," the once mighty, now crumbling gate to Kyoto, Japan's ancient capital. In the story, the wife of a samurai officer is assaulted and her husband killed by a roving bandit. Three different contradictory versions of what happened are given at the trial: the bandit's, the wife's and the Emperor's. Which version is true is in fashion and it is apparent at the outset that the play is repeating Pilate's ageless question: "What is Truth?"

THE PLAY consists of Joel Johnson, the dejected Buddhist Priest; John Kraczkas as the Woodcutter who narrates the testimonies as heard them in court. Terry Hansen as the Wig-maker who observes the half-forgetful wife; Jeff Willis as the bold, arrogant bandit, Lynda De Rousen as the assaulted wife, and Dave Allred as the Samurai officer.

Others in the play are Kim Rabe, David Derry, Muriel Smith as the girl's Mother, and Kathleen Caldwell as the Sorceress.

ADDED to the excellence of the unusual story are colorful Oriental costumes, floral shells, and a unique three-on-a-set constructed on the stage of the Joseph Smith Auditorium.

Tickets for the four performances may be obtained from the Smith ticket office. Admission is by activity card.

Linda DeRouen as the wife looks on as her husband, Dave Allred prepares to defend her from the Bandit, Jeff Willis in a scene from "Rashomon." The Oriental Play will be presented in the J. S. Auditorium April 24-27 at 8:15 p.m.

Dick Darling strains his muscles in heaving the discus. Darling threw the discus 162-9 feet against the Oregon Ducks to pick up a second place ribbon for the Cougars. He also picked up a third in the shotput with a heave of 52-1½.

Darling Dons Grid Garb In 1963 Alumni Game

This is the first of a series of articles pertaining to the seniors who will be playing in the annual Alumni vs. Cougar game.

Dick Darling, a standout as a blocking back last season will see his last action with the Alumni May 11.

DARLING IS a 5-11, 200-pounder from Caldwell, Idaho. Around his home area Dick was still remembered as one of the most sought after prep football players in recent years, having received scholarship offers from Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Missouri, and BYU, to name only a few.

These offers, many from major football powers, began to pour in immediately after Darling completed his senior year at Idaho Falls, was named All-State for two years; All-State both offense and defense his senior year; Captain of his team; Basketball All-Conference; played baseball; and was on the track team, where he held the high school shot-put record for several years.

IMPRESSED BY BYU's beautiful campus, Dick elected to come to play his college ball. Neither Idaho nor Montana had been seriously in the decision. Darling was the starting fullback on his fresh team. As a Sophomore he started for the Varsity until he was hurt in the Montana game.

As a junior, Dick switched to blocking back in the middle wing, but was again injured and was for part of the season. As a senior this past season Dick was the co-captain of the team, and he lists two of his greatest moments in sports as events of this past season: beating New Mexico 27-13 and whipping Wyoming for the first time in 13 years.

Dick has a real admiration for the Y and describes his expert

Dick Darling will change his business suit for a grid suit for the last time as a Cougar when he plays in the Cougar-Alumni game.

ence here as, "Outstanding! This is the greatest 'university' in the world." It is understandable then that Dick would feel some nostalgia as he approaches this game against his former teammates, knowing it will be his last game here at the Y.

But it doesn't seem to have dimmed his desire to play football. Asked to comment on the game, he said, "It's going to be fun; they'll be laying for us, but we'll be after them. The Alumni, having the speed, agility and experience will win."

Cats Bag Down in Mud . . .

Ducks Fly Past Cougar Cindermen

by Bud Tolman
University Sports Editor

Oregon University proved that "Ducks" are better than "Cats" down in the mud. The Ducks won in a 40-degree rain-swept track meet in Eugene, Ore. Saturday.

IN SPITE of the weather the two teams combined to set four meet records and tie three others, with Oregon setting five of these new marks.

Mel Renfro and Dave Blunt led the Ducks to victory. Ducks last year's NCAA champs, to their victory. Each copied double victories and helped give Oregon a win in the 440-relay. Renfro scored wins in the high hurdles and broad jump and Blunt captured the 100-yard and 200-yard dashes.

OREGON'S JOHN Burns turned in one of the best marks in the javelin this year, by throwing the spear 230' feet. It set a new field and meet mark.

Bob Cowart and Bob Tobler were the two Cougar performers who set new marks. Cowart jumped 6'8" for the top mark in the high jump and Tobler ran the 440-yard run in a meet record time of 48.0 seconds.

THE OTHER Two Cougar winners were Howard Parker, who coped the intermediate hurdles, and Ron Mickle, who won the discus event. Parker also trashed the discus behind Renfro in the high hurdles.

Oregon claimed #3 of the -37 total first place ribbons and it was the Cougars' depth that kept the Ducks from running up an even larger score.

TEAM SUMMARY:

440-RELAY: 1. Oregon (Groves, Morris, Blunt) 44.7.

'I'll Cry Tomorrow' To Be Shown At Cinema

Bill Sanders

"I'll Cry Tomorrow," a compelling and dramatic film autobiographical of actress-singer Lillian Roth will be featured this week at the University Cinema, 1343 Knight Building.

The picture is a real-life testament to a woman who fell into alcoholism at the age of twenty, and tells of her teen year nightmare as an alcoholic.

Susan Hayward stars as the woman who became lost in entertainment world until the sudden death of her fiance started her on the road to degradation, broken over the loss of her childhood sweetheart she began trying to forget her grief and pain. This soon lead to paths from which few are able to return.

Tracing the life of Lillian Roth through numerous career failures, through two unsuccessful marriages and the death of her guitar of San Francisco's old Row, the film very realistically portrays the mental and physical anguish of the alcoholic. "I'll Cry Tomorrow" also tells the personal story of why Lillian Roth's recovery, in her struggle to find herself and a cure for her problem she eventually turned to Alcoholics Anonymous for help. Here with the support of good friends, and through her great personal courage and will-to-live she was able to find a cure and begin to build a normal life.

Also starring in the picture are Jo Van Fleet as Lillian's ambitious stage mother, and Eddie Albert as the A.A. member who greatly aids her recovery.

Two tuition scholarships for the 1963-64 school year and 12 for one semester will be given to any students who have rendered service to BYU during the last school year, according to Inter-collegiate Knight Scholarship Chairman Eugene Brimhall.

Last year the I.K.s collected $2,200 from the sale of student discount cards to downtown movie theaters. This money was used for the scholarship fund.

Applications for the award are available in the Clark Student Service Center basement near the stairs. Deadline for the complete forms to be returned to the I.K. box is May 10, according to Brimhall.

English Graduate Students Do Plays

by Barbara Miller

Eleven graduate students in English came close to excellence in their presentations of excerpts from our plays Friday and Saturday as part of the Fine Arts Festival.

Antient and modern examples of morality and immorality plays were presented by the students. Utilizing four high stools as their only props they created for an audience of more than 100 antient and modern plays in Biblical Israel, a segment of Hell and a modern locale.

THE MORALITY plays were "Abraham and Issac" directed by Bob Desplain and "Santa Clause" directed by Penny Moody. The former starred Leland Husnaker, Mark Woodward, Marilyn Cheney and Linda West. Written in rhyme form, the play told the story of God's commandment to Abraham to sacrifice his son Isaac.

Frank Meridith directed and took part in the production of "The Devil and the Cross comedy" "Lystrisatis." Ed y. Meridith, Marilyn McMeen and Lorice Ricks read parts in the play.

Sartre's Existential play "No Exit" portrayed three souls as their own torturers in Hell. La-Rene Meridith directed the play and parts were portrayed by Marilyn Cheney, Jim Hayes, Marilyn Middleton and Annette Hayes.

THE MODERN morality play was E. C. Cummings' "Santa Claus." Penny Moody directed and acted in the production which also starred Gary Poore, Lisa Hatch and Desplain.

The productions, which were all readings edited from the originals, in three cases showed audience appeal. "Abraham and Isaac," like many morality plays, lost interest at time
